Minig Farm & Other IT Projects I Pilar, Buenos Aires

Freelancer

Since 2019 I have built my own Mining Farm and I periodically do the extension and maintenance.

At the same time, I started a project called foobe.com.ar while I became a self-learner in programming languages everything was always focused on handling large amounts of data to generate conclusions that would facilitate customs information. The NOSIS SA system was the provider of the information.

Today, I am still learning and coding everyday about Javascript, Pyhton, Data science and some of my work can be found in my github repository and website.
